“I knew when I met the Immel Team that they would sell my home in record time. They are confident and know this market very well. I loved the team approach because it does take a team to market your home. I got the best of the best all in one. Even before we actually hit the market we had offers. They have a network of top agents who know them and their reputation and trust them. I will definitely use my “Dream Team” to buy another home.”
